Professional Experience

Brent Williams joined Lund-Ross in June 1988 as one of the company's first employees and managed many successful projects as a superintendent. Today Brent serves as the company's field operations manager and is one of the co-owners of Lund-Ross. Brent coordinates staff and equipment on every Lund-Ross jobsite and oversees the company's safety programs and trainings. Under Brent's guidance, Lund-Ross has been named one of Nebraska's safest companies by the National Safety Council for the past seven years in a row.
